Believe Students Did Harm.

The disappearance of Willis E. Smith, a student of State University, at Lexington, still remains a mystery. "I cannot help but believe that my brother, Willis E. Smith, met with foul play at the hands of the students of State University," were the parting words of Prof. Albert Elias Smith, who departed Wednesday afternoon on the Lexington & Eastern train for Hindman to resume his duties as President of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union Settlement School. "There was every reason in the world for Willis to remain in Lexington and continue his studies at the University. The home surroundings at Frances E. Beauchamp's where he had gone to reside for the year were agreeable. He had labored hard for several months and saved up about $50 with which he desired to pay a part of his expenses while attending the University this season. Besides Willis in his very nature would rebel against the idea of hazing; and I believe that while resisting a crowd of students, who had meant to haze him, violence has been done him."

MATRIMONIAL.

—Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Butler announce the engagement of their daughter, Margaret, to Mr. William Merritt Shobe, of Salem, New Jersey. The wedding will take place in the early December.

—The bans of matrimony between Mr. Charles McCarth, of this city, and Miss Annie Tooley, of the county, were announced at the Catholic church in this city on Sunday last. The wedding will take place on Wednesday, October 14.

—Mr. Oscar Davis and Miss Wellington Smith were united in marriage at the residence of the officiating minister, Elder Carey E. Morgan, Wednesday afternoon, at 3 o'clock.

The bride is the handsome and attractive daughter of Mrs. Joseph K. Houston, and a graduate of Bourbon college. She wore a beautiful traveling suit of blue cloth with hat and gloves to match.

The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Davis, of Harrison, this county, and is a promising young farmer.

The attendants were Miss Ida Breckinridge Smith, sister of the bride, and Mr. George Batterton. After the ceremony the bridal party left for Lexington, where a reception was tendered them at the Phoenix Hotel, after which Mr. and Mrs. Davis left on the 9 p. m. Chesapeake & Ohio train for a two weeks' trip to the East.

Seal-Shipped Oysters, the first of the season, arrived to-day, at Rassenfoss's.

DEATHS.

—The death of Prof. John Henry Neville, of the Chair of Latin and Greek at State University, at Lexington, was a distinct shock to the faculty, friends and student body.

Capt. Mahlon R. Taylor died in Atlanta at an early hour Tuesday morning after an illness of several months of paralysis. He was born in Kentucky in 1842, and at the outbreak of the Civil War was residing in Louisville. In 1861 he joined the First Regiment of Kentucky Cavalry, Breckinridge's brigade, in the command of Maj. Gen. John H. Morgan. He fought with Morgan until the latter was cruelly shot down at his headquarters. He was taken under Gen. Joseph Wheeler, surrendering with his command at Greensboro, N. C., in April, 1865.

—Dr. John W. Whitney, the nestor of the medical profession of Central Kentucky, sank to sleep at St. Joseph's Hospital, Lexington, Tuesday afternoon at a quarter past 2 o'clock. His death was truly but sinking to sleep—peacefully, painlessly, without a murmur nor a struggle. Dr. Whitney went to the hospital five weeks ago, but more for a rest than because he was ill, and neither he, nor his physicians, nor the sisters that were constantly with him, nor his family and friends who saw him daily, realized that he was approaching death. Tuesday afternoon he was lying on his bed reading, waiting for the coming of his wife and niece, who were to arrive at 2 o'clock, when one of the sisters went to his room to see if he would have anything. He said that he had everything he wanted and she left, but returned for some reason in less than ten minutes to find that in that brief interval he had sank to eternal rest.

Outraged Virtue.

As leader of the Grand Old Party Mr. Roosevelt is morally outraged by the thought that a person like Charlie Haskell can hold public office and be identified with the management of a great political organization, says the New York World.

Mr. Roosevelt himself was nominated for Governor of New York by that eminent jurist Thomas Collier Platt. His nomination for Vice-President was forced by those equally single-minded reformers Thomas Collier Platt and Matthew Stanley Quay. Mr. Roosevelt used to call Marcus Alonzo Hanna "Uncle Mark," and when that unselfish political philanthropist was not sufficiently enthusiastic over the Roosevelt candidacy the President used Joseph Benson Foraker to club Uncle Mark into submission.

Standard Oil is a stench in the Presidential nostrils; but the Standard Oil bank still maintains its intimate relations with the Treasury Department. Harriman is hateful; but Harriman has not yet been compelled to answer the questions put to him nineteen months ago by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

No Presidential lightning strikes Uncle Joe Cannon for protecting the Paper Trust. John Dalzell still represents the Steel Trust in Chicago, and Mr. Roosevelt lumps him among the Republican candidates whose election is necessary to preserve the Government from corporation influence. The virtue that cannot abide Haskell counsels freely with Aldrich, Penrose, Elkins and Scott.

Elihu Root, who was Thomas F. Ryan's personal attorney, remains in the Cabinet as Secretary of State. One of J. Pierpont Morgan's partners is Mr. Root's Assistant Secretary; another is collecting Republican campaign tribute in Pennsylvania and a third came back from Europe recently to express his great satisfaction with the election returns from Vermont. George R. Sheldon is still in Wall street divorcing the ruthless malefactors from their campaign contributions.

Surely it cannot be the Haskell corporation affiliation alone which so incenses Mr. Roosevelt. Neither can it be the sordid fact that Haskell has been caught with the goods. The author of the letter to "My Dear Sherman" in the matter of the Harriman $260,000 campaign contribution would never repudiate a fellow statesman simply for being the victim of a little unexpected and undesired publicity.

Mr. Roosevelt has weighed the Democratic Haskell and finds him more offensive than all the Republican Hasskells combined except such as happen to be in opposition to My Policies. Can anything short of personal and partisan prejudice account for the intensity of this disfavor? Surely Haskell as given every proof that he too, is "a practical man."

War to the Death.

Senator Foraker's statement leaves no possible doubt as to his intentions and purposes. He is out to defeat Mr. Taft and is going to bend all his political energies toward that end. Anxious as he may be to lift himself up he is no less anxious to pull Mr. Taft down. As the campaign progresses Senator Foraker perceives how hopeless is the task of rehabilitating himself it is obvious that he will work the more desperately to defeat the Republican candidate for President.

Whether he can accomplish his purpose depends on the amount of influence that is left to Mr. Foraker since his exposure of his relations with the Standard Oil Company. But one thing is certain. In all his political career Mr. Roosevelt has never had to deal with so able and desperate an enemy as the one who now confronts him in Mr. Taft's own State. It is war to the death.

Big Scare in Washington.

The National Tribune (Rep.) reports a big scare in official Washington. The oldsters are recalling the September days of 1896 when the great political scare reached up to Mark Hanna, and he forthwith went out and shook down Wall Street. Everybody has heard something from somewhere, and it is always to the detriment of the Republicans. They put all of those things together, and conclude that the campaign is going to the very bow-wows, and Bryan is going to ride right in on a big wave and deprive them of their jobs. Probably there is some reason for the Republican leaders to be up and doing, for the Bryan campaign has been progressing from success to success. At the outset it was believed that Taft could be elected easily, but the opinions of politicians way up in G. O. P. circles have evidently been changed since then. Trouble for "my candidate" is brewing in the East.

Good Chance in East.

An undercurrent of feeling prevails in the East that Mr. Bryan has a better show of winning out in the present campaign, than upon either of the two previous occasions, when he was a presidential candidate. There are very grave doubts being expressed whether Mr. Taft can carry either Illinois or Indiana. They are more than debatable ground. In New York the Republican party is split wide open over Governor Hughes candidacy. Without something intervenes to heal the sore spots in the Empire State, is sure to go Democratic, as is Georgia or Arkansas.

John D. Rockefeller has refused to take from the custom house a sword reputed to have been worn by Cromwell which an English admirer sent him. Standard Oil does its work with a pen.

COMMON SENSE

Leads most intelligent people to use only medicines of known composition. Therefore it is that Dr. Pierce's medicines, the makers of which print every ingredient entering into them upon the bottle wrappers and attest its correctness under oath, are daily growing in favor. The composition of Dr. Pierce's medicines is open to everybody. Dr. Pierce being desirous of having the search light of investigation turned fully upon his formulae, being confident that the better the composition of these medicines is known the more will their great curative merits be recognized. Being wholly made of the active medicinal principles extracted from native forest roots, by exact processes original with Dr. Pierce, and without the use of a drop of alcohol, triple-refined and chemically pure glycerine being used instead in extracting and preserving the curative virtues residing in the roots employed, these medicines are entirely free from the objection of doing harm by creating an appetite for either alcoholic beverages or habit-forming drugs. Examine the formula on their bottle wrappers—the same as sworn to by Dr. Pierce, and you will find that his "Golden Medical Discovery," the great, blood-purifier, stomach tonic and bowel regulator—the medicine which, while not recommended to cure consumption in its advanced stages (no medicine will do that), yet does cure all those catarrhal conditions of head and throat, weak stomach, torpid liver and bronchial troubles, weak lungs and hang-on-coughs, which, if neglected or badly treated lead up to and finally terminate in consumption.

Take the "Golden Medical Discovery" in time and it is not likely to disappoint you if only you give it a thorough and fair trial. Don't expect miracles. It won't do supernatural things. You must exercise your patience and persevere in its use for a reasonable length of time to get its full benefits. The ingredients of which Dr. Pierce's medicines are composed have the unqualified endorsement of scores of medical leaders—better than any amount of lay, or non-professional, testimonials. They are not given away to be experimented with but are sold by all dealers in medicines at reasonable prices.

What Practice Will Do.
"By gosh!" said Uncle Timson Tabballs, after he had returned from a week-end visit in the city, "it's simply wonderful what practice'll do for people. Take this thing of eatin' with a fork, for instance. I seen lots of people at the huttel where I stopped at who could take up gobs of blackberry pie without lettin' a drop of juice leak through onto the tablecloth."

Motto from Ruskin.
"Try to get strength of heart to look yourself fairly in the face in mind as well as body. I do not doubt that the mind is a less pleasant thing to look at than the face, and for that very reason it needs more looking at; so always have two mirrors on your toilet table and see that with proper care you dress body and mind before them daily."

Be All You Can.
Let us do all the business we can. If we can't be a lighthouse, let us be a candle. Some one has said, "I can't be anything more than a farthing rush-light." Well, if you can't be more, be that; that is well enough. Be all you can. What makes the Dead sea dead? Because it is all the time receiving, and never giving out anything.—Dwight L. Moody.

Good Recipe.
Fresh air and sleep will cure many a trouble, real or artificial. When a woman is tired everything in all the world goes wrong. The stars don't shine right, the sun is tardy, the clouds are heavy. Instead of seeking a change of air, try a change of habits. A little repose will set you right with yourself.

Point Not Well Taken.
"I observe," said the editor of the magazine, looking over the manuscript that had been submitted to him by the aspiring author thereof, "that you have used the phrase, 'lean hours.' How can there be such a thing as a lean hour?" "Why not?" demanded the other. "There is such a thing as a spare moment, isn't there?"

The Secret of Success.
Each life should become conscious of its own individuality and responsibility, and poise itself on its own standing-ground. When a woman has learned that the center of the universe for her is where she stands, and has fully realized this idea of the central thought of being, she will comprehend that she can get no further than her own limitations, and must be controlled more or less by her own environment. To quote from Persian anthology: "Scoop thou ever so deep in river or fountain thou can'st but fill the pitcher."

Which Reminds Us.
Somebody wants to know if we remember candle snuffers. No, but dad does. He remarks (with much wit, we think) that they were the original fire traps.

The Remedy That Does.
"Dr. King's New Discovery is the remedy that does the healing, others promise but fail to perform," says Mrs. E. R. Pierson, of Auburn Centre, Pa. "It is curing me of throat and lung trouble of long standing, that other treatments relieve only temporarily. New Discovery is doing me so much good that I feel confident its continued use for a reasonable length of time will restore me to perfect health." This renowned cough and cold remedy and throat and lung healer is sold at Oberdorfer's drug store. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free. sept

Hotel Clerk—What's the reason that you're going to leave us, Miss De Swelle? Are you dissatisfied with the service here?
Miss De Swelle—Oh, not at all, but the stationery at the Smith house has such a beautiful crest on it and looks so much more genteel than yours that I've taken rooms there.—Chicago Daily News.

Bryan and Kern Club Organized.

The large Circuit Court room in the court house was filled last night to hear Col. John R. Allen make the first speech of the campaign. Col. Allen was introduced in a happy manner by the bright and eloquent young Democrat, T. E. Moore, Jr.
Col. Allen was at his best and delivered one of the strongest arguments for Democracy ever heard in our city. To show that this gifted orator was a favorite in this community, you only had to look at the crowd that was out to hear him. We only regret that every voter in Bourbon county was not there to hear the unanswerable arguments he made in favor of the Democratic platform.

After his speech the Bryan and Kern Club was organized with over 100 names signed to the paper, and it is safe to say there would have been double that many to remain if it had been fully understood that the Club would be organized in the County Court room.

The permanent organization was effected by electing the following officers:

T. E. Moore, Jr., President; D. C. Parrish, First Vice President; E. M. Dickson, Second Vice President; E. M. Costello, Third Vice President; Swift Champ, Secretary.
The Club will hold weekly meetings on Thursday nights.

Best Streets in Kentucky.

Mayor James M. O'Brien has his force of city hands at work on Scott Avenue and it will not be long before this avenue will be one of the best streets in our city. A ride over the city a few days ago more and more impressed us with the fact that Paris was better streets than any other city in Kentucky. Mayor O'Brien should be congratulated as all of this work has been accomplished by the interest he has taken in this matter, personally superintending the rebuilding of our thoroughfares, and then keeping them in repair.

Robbed the Second Time.

About two weeks ago the residence of Mr. Geo. Earper, on Walker's Avenue, was entered by thieves and ransacked, a number of articles being taken. On Tuesday night the same house was visited probably by the same parties, and a month's supply of groceries taken. Mr. Earper is a rural route carrier and has been in the habit of buying his groceries by the wholesale and had just replenished his large Tuesday afternoon; he thieves entered it for him that night.

Willson's Idea Not Accepted.

In affirming the judgment of the Scott Circuit Court in the case of Thomas Leach against the commonwealth, the Court of Appeals has delivered a blow to the policies of Governor Willson in inviting anti-Equity men to shoot trespassers on their farms without knowing positively the object of their mission. Leach was sentenced to the penitentiary for life for shooting C. W. Gayle through a door at Georgetown without knowing who he was, and he asked for a reversal on the grounds that he thought Gayle was a burglar. The Court of Appeals says: "A man has a right to kill a burglar or a thief who is at the time committing a felony by attempting to break into his house and so he may if necessary to protect his family and himself from bodily harm or death shoot an assailant. But a person has no legal or moral right to kill another merely because in the night time he comes upon his premises or even knocks at the door of his house. The owner, controller or occupant of premises who in the day or night time shoots and kills an intruder or trespasser cannot excuse or justify his conduct upon the ground that the person killed was a burglar or thief and upon the premises for the purpose of committing a felony or attacking with evil intent the person in possession of the premises in the absence of some evidence conducting to establish this defense."

Bold Stand for Labor Leaders.

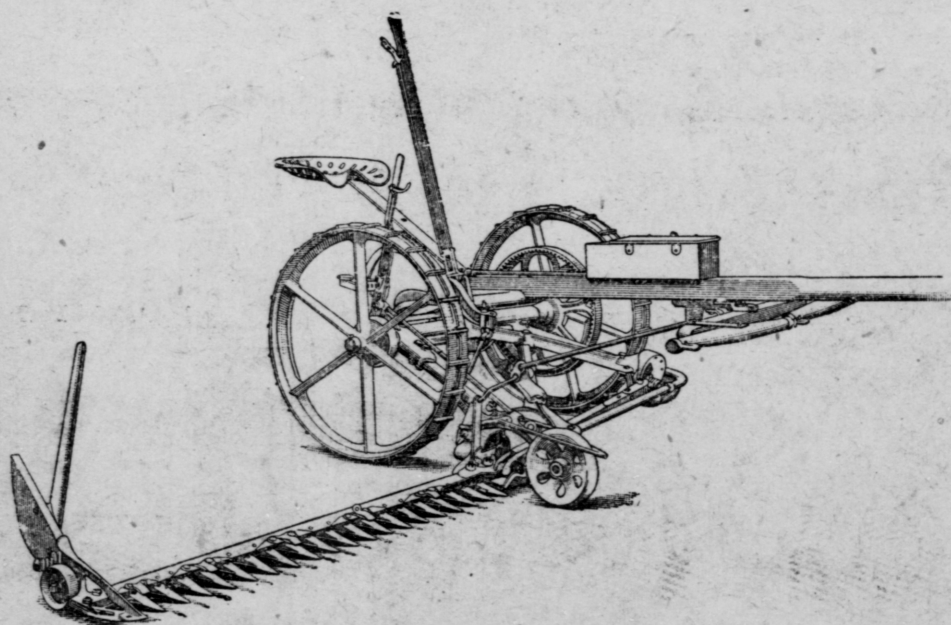

At Vincennes, Ind., Wednesday, the State Federation of Labor adopted resolutions declaring James E. Watson, Republican candidate for Governor, unfriendly to labor, and adopted a resolution denouncing Gov. Hanly for his action in calling a special session of the Legislature to pass a county local option bill.
No political convention ever witnessed a more uproarious time than was experienced in the Federation convention hall. The air was surcharged with politics and four hours were consumed in the morning in debating the denunciatory Hanly resolution, many of the "older heads" pleading and begging the convention not to adopt the resolution, but to sustain the committee that reported adversely on it. Even the women delegates took the floor and there were twenty-five there, and the resolution eventually passed by a 1 to 1 vote, leaving the convention in such a turmoil that regular business had to be suspended for two hours.

Rev. F. M. Hill and Bride Drowned.

Three days after their marriage and one day after their return to their home at Chaplin, Ky., the Rev. F. M. Hill and his bride, formerly Miss Margaret Bellewood, of Croppers, Ky., met death Tuesday afternoon in a peculiarly sudden and tragic manner, when they, with their horse and survey, were swallowed up in the swollen waters of Chaplin river, near Chaplin, Ky., in Nelson county.

The recent rains had turned the almost dry river bed into a ten-foot flood, and while the manner in which the vehicle and its occupants were drowned is not known, it is supposed that they drove to the edge of the hole to water the horse, and that the bank, which had been undermined by the swift current gave way.

The cries of the victims were heard for a quarter of a mile though when a negro boy named Gundy, who was the first arrival, reached the place, the only index to what had happened was the top of the surrey and the minister's hat floating on the top of the water.

Gundy spread the alarm, and James and Robert Sutherland and William Lawson came to the scene and began diving. Mrs. Hill was still seated in the surrey, but life was extinct when the divers brought up the body. Dr. Hill was outside the vehicle, but so tangled in the reins that his efforts to extricate himself and rescue his wife had been futile.

The Rev. F. M. Hill was a Methodist missionary evangelist of the Kentucky conference. He was thirty-eight years of age, had traveled abroad, and had made two pilgrimages to the Holy Land. He and his wife were on their way to visit his father, Mr. John I. Hill, of Boyle county, near Perryville. Dr. Hill and Miss Margaret Bellewood were married three days before at the Galt House in Louisville. The couple spent two days at the Galt House, and were returning to Dr. Hill's home, where the tragedy occurred.

Dr. Hill was at one time pastor of the Methodist church at Carlisle and while there held a revival in Paris and is well known in this community.

Burglars Tuesday Night.

The big plate glass window at Walter Davis' gun store was cut with a diamond in two places Tuesday night, and then broken with a large rock. The holes made were just large enough for a man's arm to enter, and were in different parts of the glass so two of the latest improved Remington hammerless shotguns could be reached. The thieves left an old style gun and shells for same, but took the shells that were of the same calibre as the new guns. They also took some knives and fishing tackle. The machine shops of the Louisville & Nashville railroad were also broken into and a quantity of tools taken. Several residences in South Paris were visited during the early morning hours, the burglars in each instance failing to gain an entrance or were frightened away. There is no clue as to the identity of the perpetrators.

Another Misunderstanding.
 A South side man went home and told his wife that the doctors had discovered the craving for whisky was caused by auto-intoxication. "That's right," exclaimed the woman, who was trying to induce her husband to buy a machine. "Blame it on the auto!"—

Woman Less Vain Than Man.
 Personal admiration never turns a woman's head as it does a man's. She is not naturally vain like a man, and compliments after a time become too much a matter of course to disturb her equanimity. If she is pretty she is already aware of the fact, without being told it; if she is not, she has sufficient imagination to believe that she is.

Marriage Age Increased.
 It is generally admitted that the marriageable age of women has advanced considerably of recent years.
 Many a bride has long left girlhood behind her before she exchanges her vows at the altar, and there seem to be few young men nowadays who care to assume the responsibilities of married life until they are in the financial position usually associated with middle age.—Woman's Life.

South African Agriculture.
 If our colonial producers were alive to their own interests, they would refuse to be carried away by the specious arguments of the high tariffists. Rather would they assist in spreading the vital truth that better methods of distribution will be far more efficacious than increased protection in putting South African agriculture on a sound footing.—Diamond Fields Advertiser.

A Beauty Note.

 eyes give an expression of discontent, and the moment such lines appear a woman should begin to examine closely not her eyes, but her heart, for the feelings which spring from the heart quickly find expression in the eyes.

A Traveling Man's Experience.
 "I must tell you my experience on an East bound O. R. & N. R. train from Pendleton to Le Grande, Ore.," writes Sam A. Garber, a well-known traveling man. "I was in the smoking department with some other traveling men when one of them went out into the coach and came back and said
 'There is a woman sick unto death in the car.' I at once got up and went out found her very ill with cramp colic her hands and arms were drawn up so you could not straighten them and with a death like look on her face.
 Two or three ladies were working with her and giving her whiskey. I went to my suit case and got my bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy (I never travel without it), ran to the water tank, put a double dose of the medicine in the glass, poured some water into it and stirred it with a pencil; then I had quite a time to get the ladies to let me give it to her, but I succeeded. I could at once see the effect and I worked with her, rubbing her hands, and in twenty minutes I gave her another dose. By this time we were almost into Le Grande, where I was to leave the train. I gave the bottle to the husband to be used in case another dose should be needed, but by the time the train ran into Le Grande she was all right, and I received the thanks of every passenger in the car." For sale

An Accessible Governor.
On the glass of the double door leading to the offices of the governor of Massachusetts there is printed this cordial invitation: "Walk in." And many visitors to the famous state-house beneath the golden dome on Beacon Hill who might otherwise pass by contenting themselves with furtive glances feel that here is a welcome so plain and cordial that any timidity they might otherwise be conscious of is entirely dispelled.—National Magazine.

The Terror of the Meter.
With a family of half-grown children it is often difficult to keep the gas bills within reasonable limits. We hit upon the plan of sending each child to look at the meter while the gas was burning. The steady tick-tick-tick as the indicator moved around the dial impressed upon their minds the idea that burning gas is burning money, and a decided improvement has been shown.—Harper's Bazar.

City Need Not Fear Earthquake.
Geologists say that New York city is as unlikely to be disturbed by an earthquake as any place on the globe. It is possible that the east end of Long Island or the sandy shore of New Jersey may some time slip into the Atlantic ocean, but the rock foundations of the city are likely to stand until the final "wreck of matter and the crash of worlds."

The First Marriage.
A western judge decides that Adam and Eve were married under the common law and legally bound, though there were no witnesses. The venerable couple on the other side of the big divide are thus made to feel easier, and riotous demonstrations on the part of their descendants in the west avoided.—Detroit Free Press.

Largest County in America.
The largest county in the United States is Yavapai county, Arizona, which has an area of almost 30,000 square miles. Nine states of the union are each smaller than this county. It is larger than the whole of West Virginia, and almost as large as South Carolina.

Character Counts.
Character alone gives to man the dignity of his mission and enables him to fulfill his life work in accordance with the divine scheme manifest in his being. Without it his life is negative, a blank, instead of a well rounded and full period.

The Old Philosopher.
"The wants of the vain man are few," says the Old Philosopher. "It only takes a looking-glass and a loud hooray to make him happy. Why, I have known men who thought the world only turned round to look at them!"—Atlanta Constitution.

Not Worth Talking About.
Much ado is being made over the fact that skill in "diabolo" has won a summer girl a husband. Girls who win theirs by skill in cooking are too numerous to receive mention nowadays.—Washington Post.

A Grave Offense.
A Hazleton (Pa.) man swallowed the knife with which he was eating pie and is going to die. Thus are those upheld who say that eating with the knife is a grave offense.—Chicago Post.

Small County in Small State.
The smallest state in the union has the smallest county as well. Bristol county, Rhode Island, has only 25 square miles. At one place it is not more than two miles in breadth.

Twelve couples have just celebrated their golden weddings at Abrest, a small town near Vichy, France. Three hundred descendants were present at church.

A FAMOUS REMEDY

"I cured my cough with German Syrup"
He wrote to Dr. C. G. Green:
"An' as true as I tell you, doctor dear, I'm feelin' finer than ever I've been!"

"The poor consumptive should not be the victim of experiment, as he often is, but the moment the dread disease manifests its presence he should be given Bo-schee's German Syrup—a pure, non-alcoholic medicine that is made specially for the cure of consumption, and has a world-wide fame as a certain remedy for catarrh, colds, coughs, croup, sore throat and all bronchial affections in old and young. It is sold in all civilized countries, and has been famous as a consumption cure for almost half a century.

Americans Have Monopoly.
American manufacturers of well-drilling machinery have a practical monopoly of the business throughout the world.

Harder Than Taking a City.
To enter a breach, conduct an embassy and govern a people, are actions of elicit; to comprehend, laugh, sell, pray, hate and, genteelly and justly converse with a man's own family and with himself; not to relent, not to give a man's self the lie, is more rare and hard, and less remarkable.—Montaigne.

Not Prejudicial.
It is not sufficient ground for reversing a conviction of murder that, on the retiring of the jury, the deputy prosecutor playfully kicked one of the jurors and the latter turned round and in a friendly manner shook his fist in the deputy prosecutor's face. Trombley vs. State (Ind.), 78 N. E. Rep. 976.—From Law Notes.

A False Theory.
"The proverb may be right," mused Noah, as he cast one last, long, lingering look before he went in the ark and shut the door, "but this does not seem to fit the category of events in the tide of men's lives, which, taken at the flood, leads on to fortune."

But It's So Seldom He Deserves It.
What better way is there to foster efficiency and encourage effort than by the sign of appreciation and approval? Yet how many men there are who confine this policy to their private affairs. The public servant is just as susceptible to a word of praise for good work as the one in private life, and often more so.—Milwaukee Sentinel.

While Mr. Taft is laboriously making speeches in the West which deserves public attention his voice is drowned by the din raised by the manager of his political show.

Ex-Parisian's Daughter Playing in Vaudeville.

"It was with great pleasure that I learned from the contract received that I was to play Paris, Ky. My father was born and raised in Paris and naturally I have long cherished the hope that I might have the good fortune of seeing the city of his birth and in which he spent his earlier days, and playing to his old friends—the people who knew him so well and of whom I have often heard him speak."

These were the words of "Tulsa," the girl with the black eyes—a character change artist—in accepting a contract to appear at the vaudeville theatre of McMahon & Jackson in this city, for the first three nights of the coming week.

"Tulsa," who in private life is Miss Yetta Lee, is the daughter of Hugh Lee, formerly of this city, who has for a number of years been one of the shining lights on the vaudeville stage. In the year of 1868 his father, a second cousin of Gen. Robert E. Lee, owned and conducted a tinner's shop in the building now occupied by C. B. Mitchell as a grocery.

At an early age in life Hugh Lee displayed unusual talent for the stage and set out to follow up his calling. His efforts were crowned with glorious success and in the course of a few years he ranked with the best in the profession. The last seen of him here he then maintained the same high standard.

A little more than a year ago Mr. Lee was playing an engagement at the Auditorium in Lexington and he took advantage of the opportunity of paying a visit to his old home and came over and mingled with his many old friends, the first time for a quarter of a century.

Miss Lee, like her father, has also gained quite a reputation in the theatrical profession and has won for herself admirers in every city where she has had engagements. Her costumes are models of art and she carries with her a special stage setting.

At present she is playing an engagement at the Arcade Theatre in Toledo, Ohio, and reports that she is a glowing success are going ahead of her. Her engagement in Paris will be one she may long remember, for the old friends of Hugh Lee will no doubt turn out to give her a rousing welcome.

CHAUNCEY OLCOTT IN LEXINGTON.

"Ragged Robin" is the title of the new Irish play which will be presented at the Lexington Opera House three nights next week commencing Tuesday by Chauncey Olcott and a splendid supporting company under the direction of Augustus Pitou. The piece is said to have that rare quality, a thoroughly Celtic atmosphere, and is characteristically Irish in every detail. The scene is laid in the pleasant valley of the Bandon, at a place called Inishannon.

"Ragged Robin" is a wanderer, a son of a titled man, but banished from home, accused by his foster brother of a crime which he did not commit. His ramblings bring him to the home of Andrew Grattan at the opening of the play. On the Grattan farm there is a fairy well, whose waters have the property of bringing a man and woman together for life, if they drink thereof, one after the other. Robin and Margaret Grattan both drink, unknowingly, in succession from the well and the fairy spell is woven around them. The growing interest of Margaret for Robin is noticed by Martin who prevails on Grattan to drive the minstrel from his home. It is three years before Robin again visits Inishannon. He finds the place famine-stricken and the Grattans ruined at the death of Martin Jarcey. Guided by the fairies, Robin, who by the way, has become rich and tried through the death of his father, racks the cabin of his Grattans in the middle of a bog, where they are earning a meagre living by turf cutting, and reaches it in the dawn. The lovers are united and all ends happily.

"Ragged Robin" has been written by Rida Johnson Young in collaboration with Rita Olcott, and has that admirable character of cleanliness from smut and vulgarity which is typical of all the Olcott plays. Mr. Pitou has spared neither labor nor expense in mounting the piece, and has engaged a cast of unusual excellence to give life to the characters. Among the players are Florence Lester, Alice Farrell, Lillian Claire, Mabel Bert, Mark Price, George Edwards, Charles McCarthy, George Brennan and others of note. There is an abundance of beautiful music in the piece, not the least of which are several songs composed especially for the piece by Mr. Olcott. The incidental music is by Frederick Knight Logan.

Contrary.

"There's no pleasin' a woman," remarked Mr. Jimpson, "when she's feelin' cantankerous. Says I to my wife the other night, when I seen that she was sore at things in gin'ral and me in particular, says I: 'My dear, you're prettier 'n you was when I first knew you.' An' says she: 'That's right, throw it up to me that I use to be a 'homely girl!'"

Men Listen and Laugh.

Good clothes are an immense aid in telling a funny story.

Inventor of "Skat."

Skat, which has become the rival of bridge, and has displaced it in some circles, is a purely German game and Altenburg is its home. The earliest records on the subject show that it was evolved out of other card games in 1817 by one Hempel, a professor at the Altenburg college.

Many Going to the Circus.

The circus seems to be the popular topic of conversation these days and many are making arrangements to visit Lexington on Tuesday, Oct. 6, when Ringling Brothers will exhibit there. The splendid parade at 10 o'clock in the morning, the greatly improved menagerie, a brilliant introductory spectacle, the sensational mid-air automobile double somersault and the greatest European company of artists ever seen under one canvas are the features of this year's exhibition, which the press and public of cities where the show has been are praising to the skies.

The Ringling Brothers are celebrating this season the twenty-fifth jubilee year of their splendid enterprise by giving the public a circus entertainment that exceeds anything ever done in the past in the way of amusements. They have searched the world for novelty, they have imported at great cost the most wonderful European and Asiatic acts, they have had built in foreign studios and shops the finest outfit ever used by a circus, and they have so enlarged their already gigantic show that twelve acres of ground are now required of their many tents.

The circus this year numbers 1,280 men, women and children, 650 horses, 30 camels, 40 elephants 110 cages of animals, 85 double length railroad cars and 300 parade vehicles. The main tent is the largest ever built. The great program is given in three rings, on two stages, in a vast hippodrome track and in the spacious dome. There are 375 performers, 300 of whom are making their first tour of America under the management of the Ringling Brothers.

In addition to the dangerous and thrilling automobile double somersault act, presented by Miss La Belle Roche, of France, there are a few other remarkable features never before witnessed in America: The Great Mirza Golem family, from the court of the Shah of Persia; the man from France who walks up and down stairs on his head; Riccobono and his "Good-Night" horse, which wears pants, coat and boots, from Russia; the pig that skips the rope and shoots the chutes; the ape that stands on its head; the twenty-camel team in the parade, and the remarkable zebra tandem riding act.

Franchise Increased.

The State Board of Valuation and Assessments Tuesday increased the assessment of the franchise of the Adams Express Company from $646,914, the amount fixed last year, to $965,886. The arguments of the attorneys for the Express Company had been made asking for a decrease in the assessment. The Board decided that instead of having the amount too high, they had it too low, so the assessment was increased.

An American Venice.

It is a surprising thing to know that New York city, although not known as the American Venice, contains more islands than any city but Venice, for within its boundaries are 31 separate and distinct islands, most of which, encircled by deep water, will afford unlimited shipping accommodations and dockage for the commerce of future years, to reach undreamed-of proportions, judging from past and present growth.—The "Giant City New York," National Magazine.

He Doesn't Need That Kind.

City's Benefactors.

No greater good can befall a city than when several educated men, thinking in the same way as to what is good and right, live together in it.—Goethe.

Attempted Bribery.

Luther W. Knisely, member from Dekalb county of the lower house of the Indiana Legislature, now in special session, signed an affidavit Tuesday in support of the charge made by him Saturday on the floor of the House, when he voted against the county opinion bill, that Go. J. Frank Hanly had offered him a position paying $2,000 per year if he would vote for the bill. He names Senator Wickwire as the man through whom the offer was made.

Navigation Suspended.

Navigation on the Ohio above Cincinnati was suspended Tuesday for the first time in four years on account of low water. The stage was three feet two inches at Cincinnati.

Bryan Replies to Teddy.

William J. Bryan replied to the last letter of President Roosevelt, addressed to him at Rock Island, Ill., Tuesday night. He accuses the President of attempting to shift the issues raised and attacks his autocratic manner on the subject of trusts. In his answer Mr. Bryan says: "I have lived a life in vain if your accusations have cost me a single friend."

The Famous Transylvania Stake

This great race, on Thursday, Oct. 8, third day of the Lexington Tots, for the annual trotting championship of the world. Whipped to A Standstill

The Equity Society has the tobacco trust whipped to a standstill, if the receipts of tobacco at the Cincinnati breaks is an indication. During the past week there were but 37 hogheads of tobacco sold in the Cincinnati markets. This is the record for few sales as never in the history of the Cincinnati breaks have the offerings been so light. It only goes to show how the tobacco growers' combination has things sewed up in Kentucky. If the trust can only get a chance at 37 hogheads in a week in Cincinnati its outlook is gloomy. Another encouraging feature from the Equity Society standpoint is the jump in the price of tobacco.
